To benefit the Jessie Fund
for fighting childhood cancer in Maine

THE Jessie 500

Join the Jessie 500 and make a difference.

The Jessie Fund invites you to become one of the fighters against childhood cancer. We are inviting 500 people or companies to make a yearly minimum commitment of $500 to form the corps of our campaign.

The Jessie Fund was founded after the death of eleven year old Jessie D. Bullens-Crewe from complications caused by Hodgkin's disease, a lymphatic cancer.

Although Jessie was a special young girl who loved life and all that it had to offer, she was like every other child who should have every opportunity to live a full and care-free childhood. Cancer steals their childhood and often their lives. The battle against childhood cancer is never ending and there are promising breakthroughs happening all the time.

The Jessie Fund supports these efforts and is committed to assisting the Maine Children's Cancer Program in its service to the children of Maine. Please join us in this noble challenge. Be a Jessie 500 member and add your name to the growing army fighting this battle for our kids.

Jessie 500 members will be named in all public advertising issued by the charity, and each year shall receive 2 complimentary tickets to the Jessie Fund's annual Baystock Music Festival held in Portland. In addition, members shall be given a ten percent discount on up to ten additional tickets to Baystock. Members will also receive a plaque to memorialize your contribution.

To join the Jessie 500, please fill out this form and return it with your check to:
The Jessie Fund, 17 Jessie's Lane, Cumberland, ME 04021.
